In Belleville and Romulus Counseling centers to join forces

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of Enterprise-Roman Staff

Romulus' Help and Job Placement Center is joining forces with the staff of Belleville's crisis program, "The Number," to broaden counseling in both communities.

Help and Job Placement Center Director Leonard Melnick last week said plans are nearly complete to merge the two programs into a counseling center-crisis hotline operation similar to those used in other communities.

"At first the people in Romulus wanted to establish their own hotline," Melnick said, "But that proved to be a needless duplication of effort if the Belleville program already existed."

"IT WOULD serve both communities better

'What was more logical than to merge the two?'

if both programs were merged into one improved service."

The move was one of several made by operators of the help center in Romulus to improve services and broaden the scope of the program.

"Sometimes there seems to be too much duplication of services and with them a reduction in efficiency among the various 'drug programs'," Melnick said. "The staff here in Romulus was offering person-to-person crisis counseling, while 'The Number' was offering a telephone listing ear for residents with an immediate crisis."

"What was more logical than to merge the two, providing Romulus' center with a means to reach more in the community while providing Romulus' residents with the crisis telephone which wasn't included in the original program?"

THE WHEELS of merger were allowed to roll following the announcement May 1 that the federal government had funded the Romulus program for another year.

"The help center received a $91,000 federal grant and with the funds, I was instructed to hire another staff person to handle the crisis line operation," Melnick said.

Melnick hired Cathy Calvillo.

Funds sent by the federal government also enabled the help center to work on a cooperative program with Inkster's Hegira Drug Center.

ROMULUS NOW WILL send heroin addicts in need of methadone detoxification treatment to Inkster in exchange for Inkster's right to use the job counseling facilities established in Romulus.

"Again, the staff at the help center considered establishing its own methadone detoxification program and it seemed like a needless duplication of effort, if the Inkster program existed," Melnick said. "part of the federal grant will be used to lease a 12-passenger bus to transfer Romulus clients to the Inkster program."

"The van also can be used by community workers to reach more of the Romulus community."

Melnick said a portion of the Romulus program designed to "meet the people" of Romulus appears to be working.

"HELP CENTER workers have gone into areas frequented by young people, have visited schools and have talked to service clubs in an effort to 'spread the word' about the program," he said. "It appears to be working because there now is a caseload of 70 or 80 individuals who see members of the staff on a regular basis, and more than 400 individuals who have been placed in jobs."

Grant won't aid township; Sumpter needs sewer funds

By CAROL THOMAS
Of Enterprise-Roman Staff

A windfall of $348,650 in once-lost federal and state funds for Huron Township won't aid Sumpter Township in gaining access to a sewer system unless Sumpter can come up with more than $350,000.

Huron is slated to receive two federal and state grants held back by the governmental agencies when Sumpter backed out of a three-community agreement in 1968. The government refused to pay Huron money spent on building a major sewer line to Sumpter even though county engineers had advised the township to build it.

Huron Supervisor George Moore and the board of trustees had initiated a court suit to gain the money, but a letter to President Nixon's personal secretary, Rosemary Woods, brought results in a letter notifying Huron it would receive the $176,750 in federal funds soon. State funds totaling $108,855 are expected to be granted as soon as federal money arrives.

HURON'S financial situation ought to be "pretty good" after the funds arrive, Sumpter Supervisor Robert Marble said. But Huron is attempting to charge Sumpter $350,000 for the same interceptor share that cost $186,000 to build in 1969. The added charges are for interest and other costs, Marble was told.

The Sumpter Township Board of Trustees has agreed to notify Huron that it is prepared to begin negotiations over participation in the interceptor's financing, but the trustees have balked at the $200,000 surcharge, Marble said.

"The township has never negotiated seriously with Huron over this after the project went on without us," Marble said.

In addition to problems with financing, the Michigan Department of Natural Resources apparently has closed the Flat Rock Treatment Plant to further input because it is overloaded.

Sewage from Sumpter put through the interceptor would have to go to the Flat Rock plant.

EVEN IF Sumpter could negotiate a plan with Huron, the township has no money to work with, Marble said. If the township was to participate in the sewage program, it would have to forgo a desperately needed water program.

Attempts by Sumpter officials to gain federal and state money for sewers has failed even though the Wayne County Health Department has declared water in many areas of Sumpter unsafe to drink because of contamination from human feces and wastes.

Milliken praises park; Grand opening success

By HENRY CANTIN
Of Enterprise Roman Staff

State officials led by Gov. William G. Milliken had nothing but high praise for

Van Buren Township's new 101-acre recreational site located on the north shore of Belleville Lake.

Milliken was among the featured guest speakers who attended the ribbon cutting ceremonies that signaled the grand opening of Van Buren Park on Memorial Day.

The governor said that he was quite impressed with the park site and praised both township officials and community members for making the park's opening to township and City of Belleville residents a memorable day in the history of Van Buren.

HE Praised the work by the volunteers who assisted the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) in the fish kill program and restocking of the lake with game fish.

"The state was impressed with the cooperation it received from the community in lake clean up program. Milliken told the capacity audience. He also praised residents on how nice the park was and the civic feeling that now exists about the township's new recreational facility."

Surplus funds eyed for sewer payments

Surplus bond funds of $327,000 will be used to finance the construction of a new 30-inch sanitary sewer line extension in Van Buren Township.

The Van Buren Township Board of Trustees has approved a resolution for the use of the surplus funds.

The southern Van Buren-Belleville sewer interceptor would extend from the Savage Road-Liberty Street intersection, where the downriver sewage disposal interceptor is located, north along Sumpter Road into the township.

THE SEWER, when completed, will serve 4,500 families in the southwest section of the township.

The board's resolution along with a request for the transfer of the surplus bond funds for the additional sewer facilities has been forwarded to the Wayne County Road Commission. The road commission will construct and maintain the extension.

In January 1970 a contract between the township and the Wayne County Board of Commissioners was agreed to for the construction of sewer improvements in the township and for the issuance of bonds to finance them.

The contract also provided for the use of any surplus funds from the bond issue, with the approval of the township trustees, in the financing the additional sewer facilities.

THE CITY OF Belleville and the township recently reached an agreement on the city's purchase of sewer line rights and capacity, settling the controversy surrounding the 30-inch sewer line extension.

Under the terms of the agreement the city will buy sewer rights from the township.

The city has agreed to pay the township $57,500 along with 7.2 per cent interest annually for its share of the cost of the southern extension and three risers. The cost includes the right to introduce the agreed upon capacity into the extension.

The $57,500 will be paid off in annual installments of $4,683.72. The first installment will be paid July 1.

Township officials said a minimum bid of $248,975 for the construction of the proposed sanitary sewer line extension has been received by the city.

The township officials said more than 3,000 people visited the new park during the day. Parking areas provided for park visitors were filled continuously throughout the day a park official said.

Cooperative to prepare kids for 'rigors' of kindergarten

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of Enterprise Roman Staff

More than 60 children "graduated" from the Romulus YWCA "Social and Play Experience" cooperative prepared to face the rigors of kindergarten.

After more than six years of operation, the cooperative — which the operators refuse to call a "nursery" — has "taught" hundreds of four-year-olds nothing which adds to their formal schooling, but the lesson of a lifetime about how to cope with the world.

"The program's not designed to teach children their ABCs," said Rosemarie Plocki, a member of the cooperative's board of directors. "But it is designed to teach the children how to act in a classroom situation."

"THEY LEARN that the teacher's word is the law and that they are supposed to be courteous and thoughtful while in groups."

"Those are the lessons which go a long way toward improving a child's ability to learn."

The nursery program, designed by Romulus Mayor Pro Tem Beverly McNally and Jean Ursery in 1968, has become an opportunity for children to become acquainted with their peers and an opportunity for mothers to "get away from it all" for a few hours.

"I don't know what I'd do without the opportunity," Mrs. Plocki said. "It gives me a chance to shop if I want or to visit with other mothers who discuss problems they may be having raising children."

"WITHOUT the program, I wouldn't be able to get out of the house."

Mrs. McNally said the program was aimed at "children of middle income parents who simply don't have a chance to get away from the home on weekdays."

"It wasn't intended to be a babysitting service...and doesn't serve that purpose," Mrs. McNally added. "But the program has proven to be an open door to a young mother who wants to learn more about motherhood or simply to get involved in the community."

WCRC earmarks material for widening of causeways

Materials being used in construction on the I-94 Expressway and at Detroit Metropolitan Airport in Romulus will be used in the widening of causeways leading into the Belleville and Denton Road bridges at Belleville Lake.

The widening project is scheduled to get underway next month. It will be under the supervision of the Wayne County Road Commission (WCRC).

According to Van Buren Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer, the WCRC has agreed to widening the two causeways and is making arrangements for a contractor to handle the project.

IN FEBRUARY, the Van Buren Township Board of Trustees formally requested the WCRC begin widening of the causeways while material was available and the project can be done at a lower cost.

The material from the I-94 Expressway and runway construction is available to the township, Gollwitzer said.

The tentative plans call for a 15-foot widening on the east side of the bridge approaches with a somewhat wider causeway on the west side.

The road shoulder areas at both bridges collapsed last September during the draining and restocking of game fish in Belleville Lake by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

WCRC CREWS worked nearly two weeks, repairing the damage caused by the lower levels.

"It's a kind of 'rest and relaxation' from the day-to-day chores a young mother faces."

THE COST of the program — 75 cents per session or $15 per semester — was designed to fit into the pocketbook of young couples.

"If a parent can afford to place their child in a formal nursery school set-up, then the nursery doesn't want them," Mrs. McNally said. "I found as a young mother in Romulus that the very poor and the very rich has the opportunity

Sumpter planning improvements

By CAROL THOMAS
Of The Enterprise-Roman Staff

Bids for $300,000 in improvements to Sumpter Township's water system will be let soon.

Under the suggested program, existing water mains in the township will be extended down Haggerty Road from Judd to Ware Road, on Martinsville Road from Willow to Oakville-Waltz Road, on Ware Road from Haggerty to Martinsville and Oakville-Waltz Road and from system lines are not available Martinsville to Sumpter Road, if enough money is available.

Wayne County Department of Health surveyors warned township officials in a report released earlier this year that the water situation in Sumpter is dangerous to the health of a majority of citizens.

THE HIGH WATER table in the township has been contaminated by human waste from septic tanks and not enough proper drainage is available in the township.

Although no illnesses have been reported, the possibility of an epidemic of water-carried disease is possible, health officials said.

The surveyors urged the township to place priority on proper water supply and drainage programs in order to safeguard the health of residents.

Most Sumpter residents obtain their water from shallow wells. Water that could be obtained from deep wells is sulfur-tasting, and the Detroit metropolitan water to all residents. In spite of the availability of water systems, many residents have not tapped into the lines because of the tap-in expense and continue to use wells.

Even though many residents do not utilize safe water, according to Sumpter Supervisor Robert Marble.

APPROXIMATELY $300,000 in Water Department funds are available. The funds will be used for the water main improvements.

The township board members have tried to gain federal support for a comprehensive water system to no avail, Marble said.

"The township will have to go along as best it can," he added.

The Sumpter Township Board of Trustees is contemplating phase one of the water program. If phase two and three are completed, the township would have a complete water system.

ALTHOUGH THE township has funds to complete most of the first phase, officials are trying to obtain a loan from the federal government at five per cent over a 40-year period to finish the job.

Bids will be let for the water line extensions as soon as specifications can be drawn up and the bids advertised, Marble said.

Pet tags available for dogs

Van Buren Township dog owners received a reminder this week that their 1973 dog tags expire on Friday.

Township Treasurer Ralph Hedman said that 1974 dog tag fees are $3 for all dogs—male, female and unsexed.

After June 14, the dog tag fee will cost $10. Last year, approximately 2,200 dog licenses were issued by the township.

An increase in the number of dog licenses is expected this year, Hedman said.

House shuns 'sunshine' bill

Legislator learns about 'closed' meetings

By WES THORP, Lansing Bureau

Rep. Perry Bullard, D-Ann Arbor, learned the hard way how his fellow House members feel about open meetings for governmental bodies.

Bullard, a 31-year-old attorney, introduced a bill requiring governmental bodies, from township boards to university boards of regents, to hold their proceedings in public.

His House colleagues took his bill, used it for target practice and then threw it back to him.

WHAT STARTED out as a bill which would require each governmental body to reserve seats for the public at its meetings, ended up as a bill which authorizes the governmental units to hold secret meetings.

"The public is defrauded by a bill which allows so many secret meetings," Bullard said. "Florida's open meetings law, 'The

'I voted no because secret meetings would be allowed'

Sunshine Law," prohibits all secret meetings. Michigan citizens are entitled to no less government in the sunshine than are Florida citizens."

Bullard's 'sunshine bill' was a target for public officials from the day it was introduced, during consideration in the House Judiciary Committee and on the House floor.

SCHOOL BOARD members, city councilmen, city attorneys and university regents testified before the Judiciary Committee and buttonholed individual legislators telling them that too much public involvement in government could be harmful.

The local government officials asked the lawmakers, "Do you really believe that personnel matters, collective bargaining matters or land acquisitions should be discussed in public?"

The lawmakers got the message. Amendments to Bullard's bill were introduced like they were being shot out of a machine gun.

BULLARD, A FIRST-term House member, accused his colleagues of shooting the bill full of loopholes.

Replying during the final floor debate on the bill, Rep. Thomas G. Sharpe, R-Howell, asked Bullard about his objections to having personnel matters discussed in secret. "I'm a little bit surprised that he would call these issues loopholes," Sharpe said, "if he was hired to defend a pot smoking, homosexual school teacher."

Sharpe said, "I'm sure he (Bullard) wouldn't want this to be brought out in an open meeting."

Bullard stood firm and voted against his own bill.

"I VOTED NO because secret meetings would be allowed for discussing the hiring of personnel, purchase and disposition of real property, potential or pending litigation and collective bargaining," he said.

"In addition," Bullard said, "at an emergency meeting matters concerning severe threats to health, welfare or safety of the citizenry could be discussed in secret."

"With respect to home rule city councils, this bill (the amended version) may allow more secrecy than is permitted at present," Bullard continued.

THE STATE HOME RULE City Act states: "All sessions of the legislative body (city commissions and councils) and all records of the municipality shall be public."

"That this bill authorizes secrecy masked in the guise of anti-secrecy is a fraud on the public. That is why I voted no on this bill."

As we see it
Farmers Mart project should be developed

Beverly McAnally's proposal that the City of Romulus turn a now vacant lot into a Saturday "Farmers Mart" has merit and should be pursued.

The city council's mayor pro tem said a farmers outlet will give people from throughout the area a chance to get together and will give farmers a chance to sell their wares.

We applaud Mrs. McAnally's suggestion and purpose of establishing a Romulus Farmers Mart near the Civic Center. We also see a far greater plus for the community.

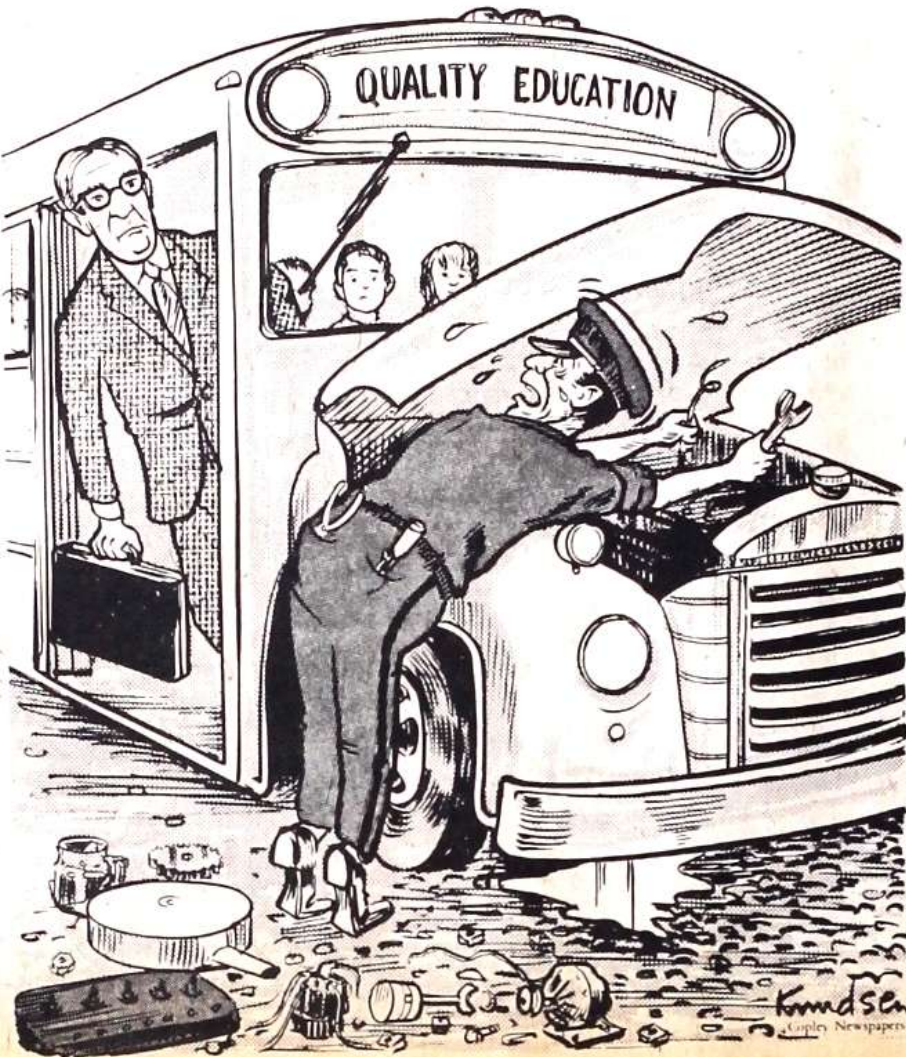

The image of Romulus needs positive public relations to erase some of the misconceptions outsiders have of the community. Here at the Enterprise-Roman, we try to keep the local citizenry informed and aware of the important matters that take place at city hall and in our schools. A farmers mart project would reach beyond the city's borders, and touch upon those who have been fed unjust impressions of the city through Detroit journals.

Once the farmers mart concept catches on, then we can see Mrs. McAnally's second proposal develop into another positive step; namely, the addition of arts and crafts booths parked next to farmers' trucks.

We can see a bustling Romulus on summer Saturdays — with people coming from Western Wayne and east and north areas of Wayne County. Most persons who drive out to Metro Airport have no idea the giant facility is located in Romulus. An educational booth on Romulus might also project the positive public relations job we suggest.

And we agree with Mrs. McAnally that a farmers mart will serve as the vehicle to bring Romulus residents together. We think it's a great idea and welcome the opportunity to do our share in publicizing the positive project.

With Pretoria

U.S. considers military ban policy change

By TOM OCHILTREE, Washington Bureau Chief

Recent dramatic shifts in the American-Soviet sea power equation have brought on the sudden realization that the United States, as a matter of self interest, should end its 11-year-old military ostracism of the Republic of South Africa.

The fourth Arab-Israeli war and the oil crisis that followed reinforced the belief among naval strategists, many congressmen and senators and informed civilians that the State Department and the Defense Department should work out a closer relationship with the white-governed nation which controls the strategic Cape of Good Hope, the gateway between the Atlantic and Indian oceans.

Private, quiet exploratory efforts already have taken place looking toward a return to the traditional friendly atmosphere between the United States and South Africa.

BECAUSE OF SOUTH Africa's racial separation policy, the merest hint of a possible change in relationship between Washington and Pretoria has produced an adverse reaction from some leaders of black America's pro-African lobby and various white church groups working for the reduction of all white influence in Africa.

The sea power problem formed the theme of private conversations which Admiral Hugh H. Biermann, commander in chief of South African defense forces, had recently with Acting Secretary of the Navy J. William Middendorf, several key members of the House and Senate and senior active and retired American naval officers.

Biermann pointed out that the internal policies of his government should not bar closer military cooperation between Washington and Pretoria including use of South African ports and base facilities by U.S. navy ships.

As everyone is aware, the United States has ties in various parts of the world with governments whose internal policies do not win cheers in Washington. The rationale for such arrangements spotlights the strategic advantages such alliances produce.

FROM THE AMERICAN point of view, what is involved world wide was explained recently to congressional committees by Admiral Elmo R. Zumwalt, Jr., the retiring chief of naval operations.

According to the 53-year-old Zumwalt the Soviet Union has built up its blue water navy to the point where the U.S. Navy can no longer guarantee control of the world's sea lanes.

"The Soviet Union's capability to deny US the sea lanes, which is their job, now is greater than our capacity to keep the sea lanes open, which is our job," he explained.

This shift in the balance of strength of the two countries can only be reversed, he said, if Congress is willing to fund a multimillion dollar naval construction program.

Nowhere is the U.S. Navy stretched more thinly than in the Indian Ocean. Ships on patrol there now have to steam as much as 5,000 miles from their nearest base facilities in the Philippines, through the straits of Malacca and then westward to the area of the Persian Gulf and the Arabian Sea.

BECAUSE OF THAT LONG haul the navy wants to establish base facilities in the isolated Indian Ocean island of Diego Garcia, a British possession. Supplemental funds to build up a naval station there recently passed the house but were rejected in the senate. The navy, however, is expected to come back in the fiscal 1975 budget with another request that Congress provide the money for Diego Garcia.

Undoubtedly that issue is touchy. Several governments bordering the Indian Ocean, including India and Australia, have questioned whether more U.S. naval presence in the Indian Ocean would touch off a massive American-Soviet arms race in the whole Indian Ocean basin. Britain's labor government has said it wants to reconsider the arrangements worked out with Washington for the Diego Garcia facility.

Settlement of that island issue would logically bring up the question of whether U.S. navy ships should again visit South African ports such as Durban, Port Elizabeth and Cape Town and even take advantage of the dry docking and repair facilities at Simon's Town, once a major station for Britain's royal navy.

THE UNITED STATES AND British navies now are engaged in clearing the Suez Canal. This can be regarded in one way as a humanitarian task since, with the canal cleared, it will be easier to deliver American food aid to starving populations in the Indian subcontinent and the east coast of black Africa.

But once the Suez Canal is opened the efficiency of the Soviet fleet in the Black Sea will be doubled. It will be relatively easy then for the Russians to maintain a strong naval presence in the Indian Ocean.

A special report by the Institute for the Study of Conflict (ISC), a private London-based think tank of military and economic experts, warned that it was tremendously important for western Europe and the United States to guarantee that oil tankers sailed without interruption from the Persian Gulf, through the western Indian Ocean and around the Cape of Good Hope.

June offers happy days for Michiganians
And you can get there on a tank of gas

June's calendar offers a montage of happy days for Western Wayne County residents according to the Michigan Tourist Council. Activities oriented to land, sea and air are sure to find favor with all segments of "fun seekers."

If you're attracted to antiques, bewitched by bargains or tempted by treasure hunts, the line-up of flea markets should give your spirits a lift. The Merry Marketeers will be setting up shop June 8 at Franks Nursery and Trims in Okemos, at Holt Plaza in Holt, June 22 and at the Meridian Mall, Okemos, June 29-30.

The Harborside Flea Market — one of the season's largest conglomerations of just about everything — is June 8 at East Park in Charlevoix.

DOUBLE BARRELED activity takes place June 16 at the Antique Auto Show and Flea Market at the fairgrounds in Saginaw, and June 28-30 in Ithaca at the Wild Frontier Days and Flea Market.

A sunny assortment of festivals leads off with Festival '74, a celebration of the arts, in Grand Rapids, June 7-9. Don't people care?

To the Editor: Some weeks have escaped us since our successful millage election of April 1; we have been happily occupied with making the improvements inherent in our victory an established reality for next year.

As the dimensions and shape of our added programs become clearer, we are reminded again of a debt of gratitude still owing the people who made an especially significant contribution to the passage of our millage. On behalf of the Board of Education and the staff, we wish to formally recognize the interest and accuracy with which Reporter Dale Gowing helped us communicate with our community.

Quality education always consists, in part, in helping to educate the community as well as the school age youngsters; we thank Mr. Gowing for his part in that effort.

Treatment of vines is secret to good wine

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Eagle Staff

For a Romulus man, Ed Wallace, 71, a good glass of wine starts developing right now.

This is the time of the year the 26-year Romulus resident begins tending his three grapevines in preparation for his winemaking in September.

"It's important to have good grapes to make a good wine," Wallace said. "And the secret to good grapes is care of your vines from the very start."

WALLACE BEGINS his program every May when the first blossoms appear on the vines, spraying the flowers once when they first appear, once again in two weeks and then spraying the grapes after they begin growing.

"It keeps away the insects and makes for healthy grapes," he said. "The healthier the grape, the better the yield."

After the spraying, Wallace watches his grapes grow, taking care to get rid of any pests as soon as they appear.

After a summer of ripening, the Romulus man begins his "labor of love."

WALLACE TAKES this two gallon crock—one a seven-gallon container and the other a two-gallon container—and fills them full with whole grapes.

He adds five pounds of sugar for every two gallons of grapes he intends to ferment and tops mixture with water.

He allows his grapes to ferment in the dark from six to eight weeks before checking them, and squeezing the juices from the whole fruit.

"By then, they've absorbed the sugar and the water and are good for wine," Wallace said. "The key is getting enough sugar in to drive away the bitterness and to insure that the brew doesn't turn into vinegar."

WALLACE SAID one of his secrets to a smooth wine is the next step in his process.

"After you have the juice in the crock, you should add about two pounds of raisins and leave them for two weeks," he said. "It starts the process again and mellows the taste."

After the two weeks, the raisins are ready for eating, and the wine is ready for bottling.

"You pour the liquid in your jug and then put the top on, but not tight," Wallace added. "The fermentation continues and if the cap is tight, the jug may explode."

THE RAISINS serve as after-dinner goodies, "but you shouldn't eat too many, even though they're good," Wallace said.

"They'll get you good and drunk," he added.

After a couple of weeks in jugs, the wine is ready for full capping and for a toast to a deserving friend.

"I don't buy beer or liquor," Wallace said. "This wine is all I can offer my friends."

"There are some who come around to sip the wine, and there are many who come back often."

STARTING WINE SEASON — Ed Wallace, 71, of Romulus looks over the branch of one of his grapevines, checking it for pests in preparation for wine-making season. "The key to good wine is early care," he told Enterprise-Roman Chief Photographer Lothar Konietzko. According to the amateur winemaker, good care results in a glass of rich, sweet wine.

Plants show reaction to owners' activities

Will talking to house plants make them grow better?

Not if the plants don't like you, according to a polygraph operator with the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

Plants are so incredibly sensitive that they show electric reaction when a human even "thinks" about cutting, burning, hurting or watering them, according to Adam Kurylew, the polygraph operator.

A DEMONSTRATION recently held at the Wayne County Road Patrol in Westland showed that a philodendron plant reacted negatively to one person when he thought about harming the plant.

Another person left the room and the plant emitted a series of excited reactions.

Kurylew, on leave from the sheriff's department, attached the electrodes of a lie detector used on humans to the leaves of several plants to read the electronic reactions given off. When the plant was left alone in a sunny spot, it "hummed" with quiet vibrations.

But when it was burned, pinched, squeezed or hit, it gave off reactions similar to pain, Kurylew said.

ONE PERSON in the room was so sensitive that when he thought of making a salad out of the plant, it became electronically hysterical.

Kurylew said he became curious about plant communication while he was studying the polygraph in New York. A professor in a nearby office had extensive equipment to measure plant responses and he began talking to students in the professor's classes and reading Dr. Cleve Backster's work on plant polygraphing. One afternoon he said his wife's rubber plant became a prime victim for some communication, but he couldn't get any electronic response from the large plant.

THE PLANT REACTS—Tests are being conducted on house plants which show that the plants react to humans in the same room. With tender loving care and an atomizer providing the plant with more humidity, this plant will flourish, according to the American Association of Nurserymen.

When his wife, drove in the driveway, the plant began emitting vibrations and it "went crazy" when she came in the room and began talking. KURYLEW ADDED that in a later experiment, at his doctor's office, the doctor was able to "communicate" with the large plant in his waiting room, getting positive and negative reactions about the plant's condition and location.

"It's really strange but a lot of people think plants can communicate," Kurylew said. Two plants from a florist signals, shown by widely-spaced scratches on the shop near the road patrol facility on Michigan Avenue were used in demonstration Tuesday and the philodendron by far was most communicative.

When a leaf was squeezed, the plant emitted large paper. When watered, the plant's response was a smooth, evenly-spaced "purr" of satisfaction.

Tomato gains importance as home, commercial crop

Breeding and hybridizing continue to benefit the tomato more than any other vegetable, since it is by far the most important crop grown commercially and in home gardens.

Garden is food source

Vegetable gardens in Western Wayne County are a source of food and enjoyment. No one is likely to eat better than the home gardener who has a well-planned and cared-for garden, according to the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service.

Not only can the home gardener have fresher vegetables than he can buy, he can grow high-quality varieties that seldom can be purchased.

A garden also provides wholesome recreation for the city or suburban family, an extension service spokesman said.

Working in a garden can be very relaxing after a long day at the office.

The gluteus maximus or buttock muscle (extending the thigh) is the bulkiest muscle of the body.

Of course, breeding objectives for commercial types are different from those demanded by home gardens.

Gardeners want good flavor, earliness and disease resistance, while commercial growers want a product that can be mechanically harvested and withstand rigors of shipping.

WHEN CHOOSING tomatoes for your garden ask for disease-resistant types. They can be identified by the letters VFN or any combination of these - meaning resistance to verticillium and fusarium wilts, and nematode pests.

To get the earliest fruit in Western Wayne County you must choose early varieties, and it's possible to have flowers or tiny fruit already formed at the time of transplanting.

Tomato transplants should be leafy, with deep green coloring, and not spindly.

ALSO, HALF the stem should be buried in the soil since this will produce extra roots.

A mulch will help earlier fruit formation, especially a black plastic mulch, which will absorb heat into the soil and encourage strong root development, while keeping weeds in check and conserving moisture.

Nursery finds month to be its most active

In looking back over its first school year, members of the Huron Countryside Co-op Nursery found May to be one of its most active months. Yvonne Campeau, publicity chairman, reported that youngsters with birthdays in May, June, July and August were honored at the regular monthly birthday party en masse since the school year is about to come to a close.

"Birthday crowned" children were Lisa Arquette, Marian Berliin, Paul Boike, Jennifer Caldwell, Leah Dalley, Krista Falkey, Todd Hamilton, Angie Kraus, Joseph Miklosi, Chuckie Unsel and Lisa Yorks.

Another May highlight was the Mother's Day party at which the students shared refreshments and their individually-wrapped presents. The boys and girls were particularly excited to have their mothers unwrap their gifts since they had hand-fashioned "original" paper weights from clay dough and artificial flowers for the occasion.

A BAZAAR-rummage-bake sale was another successful program which the group carried off. Of especial interest, at that time was the "while-you-wait" cake decorating of Mother's Day confections by the nursery's own member, Rosalie Berliin.

The May calendar also included a trip to the Children's Farm and Riding School in Canton Township.

Forty-six children, parents, teachers and guests enjoyed seeing all the animals, feeding the sheep and goats and bouncing along on a hay ride with the tractor driving actually done by two of the nursery lads, Todd Hamilton and Albert Nowak. Yvette Campeau and Jeff Wilson also took part in the horseback riding demonstration.

The closing of the 1973-74 school year is set for May 31 when graduation for children going on to Kindergarten in the fall will take place. A picnic will also be part of the nursery's first "commencement" program.

FOR THOSE interested in enrolling youngsters for the fall term, an open house will be held from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. June 4 at the Huron Elementary School on

To end money dispute

7 townships seek ruling on sheriff's patrols

By DALE GOWING
Of The Enterprise-Roman

With Huron Township Supervisor George W. Moore acting as group chairman, seven of Wayne County's 10 townships have joined forces to battle a proposal by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners to curtail township patrols by sheriff's department officers. The seven townships were represented by their supervisors in an open meeting last week in Huron Township at which they voted in favor of a court's declaratory judgement to "find out just what constitutes law enforcement in the county's townships," according to Moore. The board of commissioners considered ending the sheriff's department Road Patrol activity in all of the county's townships Oct. 1 for financial reasons, Moore said. Policing responsibilities would then fall on the individual townships. COUNTY FUNDING for the sheriff's department expires Oct. 1.

The five townships represented at the meeting, in addition to Huron, were Sumpter, Brownstown, Canton, Northville and Plymouth. The three abstaining were the townships of Redford, Grosse Ile and Grosse Pointe. Moore said each of the seven townships pledged $1,000 to a legal fund to be used for preventing the termination of the sheriff's patrols.

HE SAID THE cost to taxpayers for road patrol service throughout the county's townships is "less than $600,000 out of a $300 million budget, the department has."

Boy Scouts' schedule offers program variety

Boy Scout Troop 231 of the Trinity Episcopal Church of Belleville started the year off on both feet with each month packed with activities. Starting off the year, the troop used January to plan their monthly campout schedule for the year, then took to the woods to try out their survival skills.

The scouts made camp on the Potawatomi Trail, north of Chelsea, braving nighttime temperatures of 15 degrees below zero. TO CHASE AWAY the chill of the campout, the troop also visited the University of Michigan Exhibit Museum and planetarium during the month.

February activities included a freeze-out, campout and the Klondike Derby with March showing a touch of grace in a visit to the "Ice Capades" at Olympia Stadium. March activities also included a combination canoe trip and campout on the Huron River in the Island

Lake Recreation Area. The 20 participating scouts braved sub-freezing temperatures and blizzard conditions during the trip. To top off the month, the troop participated in the scouting district's first aid class. LAST MONTH was highlighted by another trip into Detroit, this time to see the Harlem Globetrotters. Forty scouts and parents made the journey to Detroit. A combined advancement and Project Save Our American Resources (SOAR) was held at the end of the month. Project SOAR is a national program to cleanup the countryside. Troop members managed to clear two miles of Elwell Road of litter as part of the campaign. To date, activities during May have included a paper drive with another scheduled for today. The troop also toured the St. Regis Paper Co. and assisted Trinity Church with its spring barbeque.

TOPPING OF May, the troop joined other residents in marching in Monday's Memorial Day Parade. Upcoming activities include the court of honor in late June, a seven day campout at Camp D-A in Metamora in July, and a fall canoe trip.

The troop meets from 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesdays at Trinity Church, 11575 Belleville Rd. The heaviest brain ever recorded was that of Ivan Sergeyevich Turgenev, the Russian author. His brain weighed 4 pounds 6.96 ounces.

Van Buren board okays equipment expenditure

The Van Buren Township Fire Department will be getting more than $4,000 in new equipment soon.

The Van Buren Township Board of Trustees has approved the purchase of approximately $4,350 in equipment for the department. Funds for the expenditure will be taken from the township's general fund.

The new equipment includes 10 new coats and liners for the fire fighters, intercom systems, hose connections, four airpumps, a hydrant pump, two safety belts and hooks, adapters and miscellaneous items.

THE CONSTRUCTION of a meeting room in one of the township's two fire halls, which are included in the $4,350 expenditures drew objections from Township Clerk Patricia Cullin at a recent meeting. She voiced opposition to the addition of a meeting room at one of the fire halls.

Township Fire Commissioner Darwin Kureth had asked the trustees to consider the purchase of an $11,000 radio facility for the fire department. However, no formal action was taken on this request.

Van Buren Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer said funds to purchase the radio facilities may have to be borrowed.

In April, the board approved borrowing funds for the purchase of a $27,500 fire truck attachment, called the telesquirt.

THE BOARD also approved appointment of Michael Remus as a volunteer fireman for Fire Department No. 1, located on Fourth Street in Belleville.

In other matters, the trustees approved a bid proposal of $2,851.87, submitted by Heining Chevrolet of Belleville, for a new car for use by the township ordinance officer.

The board also approved the appointment of Gary Taylor to the township's police force.

—ACCEPTED A PROPOSAL to change the time for township board meetings from 8 to 7 p.m. informed Catherine Howard, who lives in the Van Buren Estates Subdivision and had complained of rats in the area, that the Wayne County Department of Health will help residents of the subdivision with a rat control program.

—approved a recommendation by the township's parks and recreation commission for a continuance of its policy to buy equipment for organizations requesting monetary contributions. In following this policy, the township board approved a contribution of $250 for Babe Ruth baseball and a similar amount for Little League.

—APPROVED THE payment of $1 per fowl to

Joseph Chudzinski of 41721 Savage Rd. for 10 chickens he said were destroyed by roaming dogs.

—approved an additional $300 for beach improvements at Van Buren Park, and $125 for the purchase of an aluminum boat for the beach.

Senator to seek new term

Pointing to a record highlighted by an effective response to the public, State Sen. John McCauley (D-Grosse Ile) said he will seek re-election to the State Senate. A member of the Senate since 1964, McCauley said his voting record in the legislative body would show his concern for those measures needed by working men and women and senior citizens.

"Too many candidates and too many elected officials today ignore the mandates of the people," he said.

A graduate of Michigan State and Wayne State universities, McCauley served as councilman and mayor of Wyandotte before assuming the chairmanship of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors.

As a state senator he represents the 11th District which includes a portion of Sumpter Township.

Britz shuts out Belleville, 1-0

Romulus erases Tigers from district

Romulus, making good use of on-Rick Britz' pitching arm, ousted area rival, Belleville, from the state Class A district playoff tournament 1-0 on Saturday.

Britz twirled a three-hitter, struck out seven, walked one to hand the Tigers the tournament-ousting loss. His pitching rival, Lee Stiltner, was equally effective on the mound but a couple of fielder's choices and an error lead to his and Belleville's demise in the third inning.

Stiltner tossed a two-hitter, giving up one walk while he struck out three.

"I CAN'T knock our pitching," said Belleville Coach

Vitold Kaminski, "or our defense. Both have been exceptionally good, but we didn't get the hits when they count. And that's been the story of this team all year long.

Britz scattered three harmless singles with Kevin Bara, Dave Dapsi and Robin Hook each getting one.

Belleville, which hasn't finished last in their league in recent years, may do so in the Suburban 8 if the Tigers don't pull out of their skid. They met Plymouth on Tuesday and wrap up the campaign against Edsel Ford tomorrow.

The Tigers won their second league decision in 12 starts at the expense of Trenton last week. Sophomore Dan Ket-lebut pitched a two-hitter, walked one and struck out seven as Belleville blanked the Trojans 1-0.

BELLEVILLE scored the winning run in the third inning when Gary Adkins singled with one away, then Jeff Hoeman got aboard on an infield hit and a throwing error allowed Adkins to make it around.

Belleville was also eliminated from the Wyandotte Tournament as Flat Rock crushed the Tigers' hopes 5-1 behind Bill Hoge's one-hitter.

Dave Dapsi spoiled Hoge's dreams of the a no-hitter when he doubled home Hoeman who got aboard on an error in the seventh. BELLEVILLE's other warm-up prior to its district clash with Romulus Saturday was a distasteful one, a 5-0 loss to Dearborn.

The Tigers were punchless against pioneer hurdler Bob Mast, who allowed a mere single. Kettlehut absorbed the loss in his first varsity start. Dearborn tagged Kettlehut and two others for eight hits while Dapsi had Belleville's only single. Dearborn scored twice in the first and once in the second, fourth and fifth games. Belleville was 5-11 overall and 1-10 in the Suburban Eight League.

ROMULUS tuned up for its district clash with Belleville with resounding victories over Woodhaven and Robichaud, but dropped the final tuneup to Ypsilanti, 10-8.

The Eagles collected 12 hits off loser Kevin Konarka in a 11-0 rout of Woodhaven, as Britz tossed a three-hitter. Mike Nielson went 3-for-3 for Romulus.

Romulus scored five in the first and two in each of the second, third and sixth innings. ROBICHAUD was the Eagles' next victim, falling victim to 16 Romulus hits and the four-hit pitching of Simon Marsiglia, Steve Nieman and Kurt Lenderman in a 16-5 decision.

Robichaud managed just five hits and even led at one run, 3-2.

But Romulus' bats got red hot and pushed across two runs in the second, six in the fourth, one in the sixth and seven in the seventh.

The Eagles' loss to Ypsilanti was a heartbreaking one, since Romulus blew a 5-3 lead in the sixth inning.

Losing pitcher Lenderman

was cruising along on a five-hitter until the Braves poked four straight hits and scored seven runs.

Romulus to lose mat coach

By TOM MOORADIAN

Jim Stallings, who forged Romulus High School wrestling teams into a state Class A power, will be heading for greener pastures this fall.

The 30-year-old coach and English teacher said yesterday that he has accepted a similar job at Trenton High School.

JIM STALLINGS

"I feel it's time for a change," said Stallings who has been employed by the Romulus School District for the last seven years. "I feel we have accomplished much here at Romulus, now I'm looking for a bigger challenge. Trenton is noted for its traditionally outstanding wrestling teams and is a much bigger school."

STALLINGS, WHO WAS our choice for the Coach of the Year honors in this area in 1972, has come up with some excellent wrestlers at Romulus over the years, including two-time state champ, Brad Smith, heavyweight Henry Reed, the Cross brothers - Aaron, Mike and Melvin - Marvin and Nate Williams, Robert Morrison, Phil Ford, John Arrington and Lemar Sandusky, all of whom have been named to All-Area teams at one time or other.

"I'm also leaving some fine kids behind," added Stallings. "In fact, Sandusky, who's only a sophomore, recently won the United States Federation Greco-Roman wrestling title at 105½ and Rudy Williams placed third in that tournament."

SMITH, WHO IS INDIRECTLY related to the Romulus coach - Stallings' brother married Brad's sister - signed a letter of intent last week to attend the University of Toledo. Brad is the only two-time state champ in Romulus High's history.

"Brad and Reid, I feel, are the two finest wrestlers that I have ever coached," Stallings offered.

The Romulus coach picked Trenton, he says, because "of the wrestling tradition and it's a bigger school."

"Besides, Trenton is in a league (Suburban 8 Conference) and working to win a league title is important," continued Stallings, "when you look at the over-all picture, Trenton has much more to offer."

STALLINGS POINTED out "that it isn't a secret that Romulus is a basketball school and though Ed Baum (athletic director) is one of the finest persons anyone would like to work for, I feel that you just can't turn down something like this offer."

A vice-president of the Michigan Wrestling Coaches Association, and treasurer of the Michigan Wrestling Club, Jim also is busy during the season compiling the state wrestling polls.

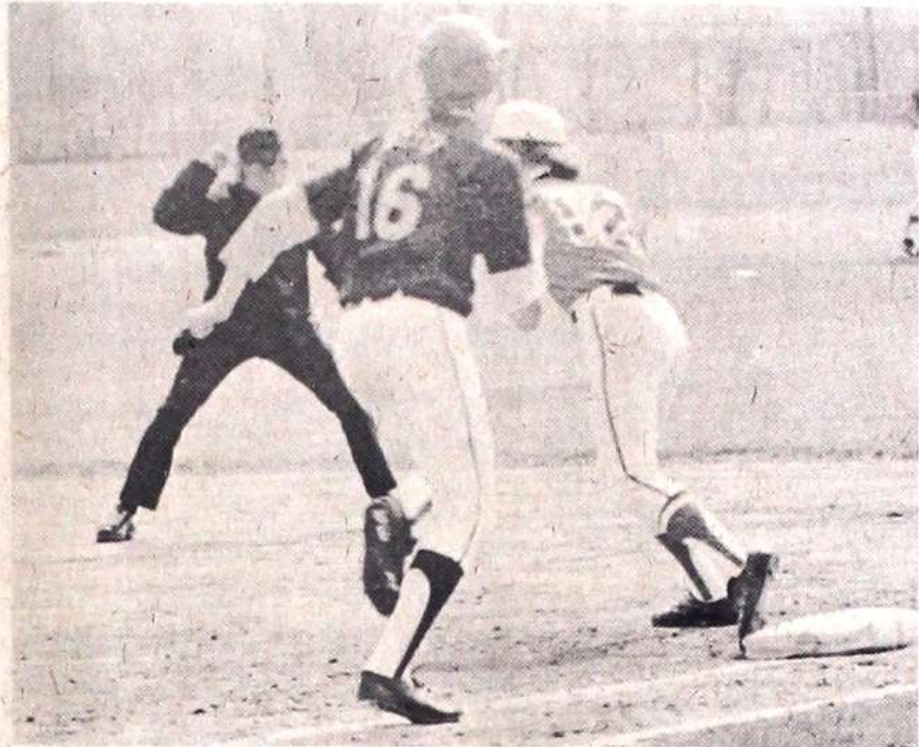

A graduate of Romulus High, Stallings went on to earn 12 letters in three different sports at Hillsdale College, excelling in football, wrestling and track.

He's married to Sherry and the couple have a year old son, Bradley James, named after the two-time state champ. They live in Dearborn Heights.

"I know one thing I'm going to miss and that's the excellent coverage you people have been giving our teams," added Stallings. "We're going to miss those annual All-Area meetings, too."

And, as long as you don't come into the area with your Trenton teams and sweep all of the medals and trophies, Jim, we're going to miss you, too.

YEAR OF PROBLEMS — Belleville Coach Vi Kaminski has never had a baseball team finish last in the league standings, but that more than 20 year distinction may end this season if the Tiger ball club doesn't snap out of its hitting slump. Sporting a 2-10 record in the Suburban 8, the Tigers must beat Plymouth and Edsel Ford this week in order to save them from becoming the league's 1974 doormat. Above, Belleville first baseman Joe Stillwagon stretches for the putout of an Allen Park baserunner. — Enterprise Roman photo.

Romulus' Brad Smith to attend U of Toledo

Bradley Smith, the only wrestler in Romulus High's history to win two Class A state wrestling championships, has signed a letter of intent to attend the University of Toledo.

Brad will be joining his brother, Vergil, who is a freshman at the university. Vergil lettered in football, wrestling and baseball while at Romulus.

"I think Brad's choice of colleges is an excellent one," said Romulus High Wrestling coach Jim Stallings. "Dick Wilson, who coaches there is a three-time Olympian and one of the finest coaches in the country."

BRAD WON the state Class A title in the 138-pound this year, capping a 45-2 worst-loss season. He also won the title last year at the 132-pound class.

"Brad is one of the finest wrestlers I have ever coached," added Stallings. "He's also a top-notch student, a member of the National Honor Society."

Smith also had earned All-Area recognition for an unprecedented three straight years. The 17-year-old athlete-scholar lettered in football for three years.

Blue Boar roars

Blue Boar Inn leads the Belleville Softball League standings with a 2-0 record after the first week of action.

Blue Boar Inn, last year's champion, knocked off Air Cargo, 7-0, and Hamilton Hde, 5-4. Second place P.L.A.V. played to a 9-9 tie with

Belleville Teachers. Hamilton Hde, Air Cargo and Rogall's Lounge are even at 1-1. Hamilton bounced

Belleville Moose, 14-6, Air Cargo dumped the same team, 15-8, and Rogall's Lounge nipped Belleville Jaycee's, 12-11.

Prep thinclads ready for 6th All-Area Meet

Except for an elite group of area prep trackmen who will compete in Friday's state Class A and B finals, the track season is over.

But, area thinclads aren't rushing to put their equipment into storage - there is one final area test most will try to pass and that's the sixth annual Daily Eagle-Associated Newspapers Track & Field Meet.

The meet will be held at Wayne Memorial after the state finals. It is a "winner take all sort of competition."

The trackman must finish first to be awarded the All-Area designation. And the gold medal. Second and third placers will be given medals.

And here are the times and performances that the athletes will have to beat if they want 1974 All-Area recognition.

Wayne County Department of Health Field Director Glenn Brown received his award at last week's board meeting for his work in spearheading the survey of Sumpter's water system recently completed by the department. Connie Beaudire and The Rev. Mr. Clarence Davie were awarded certificates

Edgemont to stage 'The Hobbit'

They're not quite sure what a hobbit is, but students of Edgemont Elementary School Drama Club are learning steps and music as part of their production of "The Hobbit." Based on the story of J. R. R. Tolkien, the play is about the travels and adventures of a band of dwarves and the hobbit who are searching for a stolen treasure. Fourth through sixth grade students are involved in the production with assistance from several Belleville High School students and Edgemont faculty members. THE PLAY, to be performed June 13, 14 and 15 at the Belleville High School Auditorium, is directed by Jim Lightfoot. The musical direction is being handled by Michelle Rinka.

The youngsters have taken on the task of not only starring in the show, but also building the props and stage scenery. They have found the undertaking somewhat demanding, having to create, mountains, a dragon and giant spiders for the play.

Choreographer for the musical is Maxie Jo Haase, the Vana Buren Township Recreation Commission dance instructor, who is helping the students coordinate music, word and feet to create the effect of the play.

IN COSTUMING, the students have used hairy feet to create a troll effect with a hint of variety to develop the hobbit. Special lighting effects have been added to finish off the requirements for the play.

The play will be presented at 8 p.m. all three nights. Tickets cost $1.

Motion by Oakley, supported by Lee, to concur with the recommendation of the Mayor and adopt Resolution 74-316.

Resolution 74-316

WHEREAS: There is presently pending, on the Senate Floor for action, Senate Bill 781, which would provide that "retainage" amounts held back from progress payments made to contractors for public buildings, sewer or other public works projects (except street and highways projects) be deposited in an escrow account to be paid, along with interest to the contractor upon completion of project; and

WHEREAS: Said "retainage" amounts must be deposited with an escrow agent (bank, savings and loan institution or the agency itself) and must be agreeable to the contractor and said escrow agent may retain up to half the interest earned to cover administrative costs; and

WHEREAS: Enactment of said Senate Bill would create an administrative headache for cities, as well as, create additional expenses for the payment of an escrow agent; and

WHEREAS: The City of Romulus is opposed to any and all legislation which inhibits the ability of a municipality to adequately function.

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: That the City of Romulus be recorded as opposing Senate Bill 781, and beseech the Legislature to defeat said bill.

Motion by Oakley, supported by Coleman, to concur with the recommendation of the Mayor and adopt Resolution 74-317.

Resolution 74-317

WHEREAS: The House Taxation Committee recently reported out of committee a package of bills designed to provide an estimated $53 million in State tax relief together with proposals to be submitted to the electors in November, eliminating the sales tax on food and prescription drugs (HB4075) and making up the loss of revenues (variously estimated between $150 million and $180 million) by increasing the State personal income tax by 6 percent which is estimated to provide additional revenue of approximately $200 million (HB5413), and

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: That the City Council of the City of Romulus, do hereby beseech the legislature of the State of Michigan to amend the State income tax bill HB5413 to provide an allocation of an appropriate percentage of the State personal income tax to cities, villages and townships on a per capita basis.

Huron High School to award student memorial scholarship

A June 3 deadline has been set for submitting applications for the Huron School District's Carl T. Renton Scholarship. Established in the memory of the former assistant superintendent, the Renton Award is given to students who demonstrate a desire to pursue a particular professional goal and have a financial need. It is not awarded on the basis of scholarship achievement.

"The award is unique because it does not reward scholarship and high grades like other scholarships, rather it is awarded to students who have a definite goal in mind," said Phillip Dalley, Huron Schools administrative assistant. "It's for students who know where they want to go in life, but money is standing in their way."

"Scholarship plays a minor role." Students may receive up to $500 per year for up to four years. The award of one or more scholarships will be made during the senior high commencement exercises on June 9.

Dalley said 15 to 20 applications are available at the principal's office in the high school and should be returned there with three letters of recommendation, one from a teacher dealing with the student's success in the class related to his occupational goal, and two which attest to his service record.

Renton was assistant superintendent until his death in 1973. This will be the second time the scholarship has been awarded in his name.

WE KNOW WHAT A PAPA GOLDFISH IS WORTH.

What happens when somebody says,
"We put in that little pond by the apple tree 6 years ago. And the papa goldfish is 8 inches long now?" That ought to be worth something. We think it is. And so we take the pond and the afternoon sun and spring blossoms into consideration.
If they're worth something to the owners, they'll be worth something to the people we'll find to live in their home. And everyone will be pleased.
